

GOVERNOR REMOVES NEWARK MAYOR

AMERICA WANTS SAME RIGHTS AS OTHER NATIONS

Latest Mandate Note Demands Equal Position With Others

MUST CONSULT U. S.

Row Between England and France Holds Up Work at Geneva.

Geneva, Sept. 9.—The United States in its latest mandate note to the allied powers insists that America shall have the same right in mandatory territories as members of the league of nations, it was learned here today.

The text of the American note has been received by the delegates of the allied powers attending the league of nations assembly meetings from the various allied foreign offices.

It is understood that the American note raises the following points: 1.—America resents that the allies must consult her before disposing of the former German colonies.

2.—American insists that she have the same trade rights in mandate territories as members of the league of nations.

3.—No mandate shall be modified without the consent of the United States.

5.—The American note meets the allied argument that the United States did not war on Turkey and consequently has no voice in the disposition of Turkish colonies by asserting that Turkey would not have been defeated if the United States had not fought Germany.

6.—The American note suggests that capitulations be maintained in Syria, Palestine and Mesopotamia until effective governments can be established in those countries.

It is learned that all prospects for any real progress on disarmament at this session have been severely retarded by the flat refusal of England and France to "interchange full and frank information" regarding armaments though pledged to do so in article eight of the league of nations covenant.

Dr. Nansen, head of the international relief work for Russia made a two hour speech offering a resolution to refer the question of relief to a committee of assembly which would make an appeal to all governments to issue credits. Dr. Nansen before coming to Geneva negotiated an agreement with the Moscow soviet in which the latter requested an international loan of $50,000,000 to aid famine and cholera sufferers. The British have already refused to participate in any such international loans, asserting that Russia is bankrupt and could not repay and also because the soviet did not give guarantees that were satisfactory to England that the food purchased with the money would not be diverted to the red army.

Geneva, Sept. 9.—Unemployment in the United States came in for attention at the league of nations assembly meeting today although America is not a member of the league.

M. Lafontaine, of the Belgian delegation, in criticizing the report of the league council, referred to both American unemployment and the Russian famine as two outstanding cases of world misery.

WEST VIRGINIA IS REPORTED TRANQUIL

Washington, Sept. 9.—Coincident with the announcement today that federal troops had been ordered removed from Logan county, West Virginia, scene of the recent fighting in the mine war, the war department also stated that Brig. Gen. Bandholtz, general officer in charge will be withdrawn from West Virginia not earlier than Sept. 12.

The orders indicate that the serious aspect of the West Virginia warfare has passed.

END IN SIGHT

Washington Sept. 9.—The end of the long dispute between Panama and Costa Rica over the Coto district which at one time caused open warfare between the two countries and led to the dispatch of sharpshooters and a battalion of marines was signalled today.

The state department was officially informed that Costa Rica had accomplished peacefully the possession of the district and that there was no trouble.

GROCERY WRECKED
Chicago, Sept. 8.—Explosion of a black powder bomb wrecked the grocery store of Galotti Brothers in West Division street early today. Iron slugs contained in the bomb shattered windows in this vicinity. Police have been unable to discover any motive for the bombing.

One Dead, Four Wounded In Prohibition Raid On Ship

Dry Agents Storm Ship and After Bitter Battle Confiscate Whiskey and Drugs—Action Follows Big Haul On Water Front.

New York, Sept. 9.—Two Greek sailors, found wounded in their bunks aboard the Greek steamer King Alexander today brought the total wounded when a boarding party of prohibition agents stormed the ship early in the morning to seven, one probably fatally. In addition, a body, believed to be one of the raiding party was found floating in the harbor, near the scene of the fight.

Prohibition officer Frank J. Fitzpatrick, following the said shot and killed himself in the wash room of the ferry house on the shore near the ship's moorage. Police reported, according to their story, other prohibition agents were standing near Fitzpatrick at the time. It is not known whether he shot any of the crew who were wounded in the fight.

As a result of the ship storming, which comes close on the heels of the capture by prohibition agents of nearly a million dollars worth of high grade whiskeys on the water front, the local prohibition office has $1,000,000 worth of cocaine and liquor, seized aboard the ship. All of the wounded men are now in hospitals closely guarded. In addition eight unharmed sailors who participated in the pistol battle aboard the ship, which took place just before dawn are held for violation of the Volstead act.

The capture of the ship was made only after a bitter battle between the raiders and the crew. An arrangement had been made by two prohibition agents and the sailors by which a portion of the drugs and whiskey were to be bought by the agents, for $14,000.

Early this morning in a boat dimly lighted by a lantern, the two agents went out to the moorage of the King Alexander, climbed up the Jacob's ladder and began to pay the crew for the contraband as agreed. Close behind the boat as it approached the steamer came a launch filled with fifteen prohibition officers. Hardly had the two aboard begun to hand over their money when a watch aboard the King Alexander espied the approaching officers.

Immediately an attack was made upon the two men upon the ship while efforts to raise the ladder, to prevent the storming party from climbing aboard proved just too late.

Armed with heavy irons and pistols the crew fought bitterly to repel the invaders. From the stern of the ship came flashes of fire, where the pistols were being aimed at the flashes of light which disclosed the presence of members of the storming party.

In reply the prohibition agents drew their own guns and their fire caused the defenders to seek cover. Agents Reager and Oyler, the first two aboard, in the darkness, made their way to cover, firing, whenever they got a chance at the members of the crew.

Fearing for their lives members of the crew, at once began to seek escape from the ship.

A lull in the firing caused prohibition Chief Ernest Langley to investigate.

"SLAVE MARKET" TO BE CONTINUED BY PROFESSIONAL NOW

Boston, Sept. 9.—A professional auctioneer is to take the place of Urban Ledoux when he continues the sale of "his slaves"—men out of work—on Boston commons today.

Ledoux announced his intention of continuing his "slave market" until the conscience of Boston is aroused and the unemployment problem is solved.

Thirty men, many of them veterans of the world war, were in the group offered to the public today under the auctioneer's hammer. All they asked was a chance to work.

There probably will be no more Canadian veterans numbered among the unemployed offered for sale by "Mr. Zeero" as the philanthropist calls himself. A veteran of the Canadian army today visited Howard Street headquarters after reading an account of the "sale" of a Canadian ex-soldier.

"My government would not like to hear of this," he said as he departed with a man who had fought under the maple leaf. He left directions to send any other destitute Canadian veteran to his office.

LAY DELEGATES OPEN CONFERENCE

Circleville, Sept. 9.—Lay delegates of the Ohio conference, Methodist Episcopal church, opened their annual sessions here today.

Pastors of the conference also, in annual session here, decided to meet at Logan next year.

The Methodist orphans home, Worthington, is crowded and is in need of room, according to Rev. Dr. J. C. Arbuckle, Superintendent.

J. A. White, superintendent of the Ohio anti-saloon league, addressing the conference said dry laws enacted by the present state legislature are the best prohibition laws ever passed in Ohio.

MENTION DRESSSEL AS NEXT ENVOY

Loring Dressel, American Commissioner at Berlin, is the latest to be mentioned for the post of Ambassador to Germany when diplomatic relations with the two countries are resumed. During the difficult period when it was necessary to look after American interests in the German capital, at a time when America was neither at peace nor war with that country, Mr. Dressel worked hard for America's interests.

SECRETARY MELLON WOULD MAKE TAX REPEAL EFFECTIVE

Changes in Revenue Measure Recommended to Senate Finance Committee

Washington, Sept. 9.—Changes in the house tax bill recommended yesterday to the senate finance committee by Secretary Mellon included:

Repeal of the excess profits tax effective as of last Jan. 1, instead of next Jan. 1.

Retention of all of the transportation taxes for the calendar year 1922, but at half the present rates instead of complete repeal as of next Jan. 1.

Repeal of the capital stock tax, effective next year, an entirely new proposal.

Reduction of the maximum income surtax rate from 63 per cent to 25 per cent, effective Jan. 1, 1922, instead of to 32 per cent, as provided in the house bill.

An increase of 5 per cent in the normal corporation income tax, making the total 15 per cent, retroactive to last Jan. 1.

A manufacturers tax on cosmetics and proprietary medicines to replace stamp taxes.

Retention next year of the taxes on insurance premiums at half the present rates.

With these exceptions the treasury secretary was understood to have approved the house measure with its provisions for an increase of $500 in the exemption to heads of families having net incomes of $5,000 a year or less and $200 additional for dependents; for decreased rates on sporting goods, yachts and furs and for manufacturers' taxes on fountain syrups and other ingredients in lieu of the present so-called nuisance taxes.

Explaining his proposal for further reduction of 7 per cent in the maximum income surtax rates, Mellon was said to have told the committee that the lower rate eventually would return a greater yield to the government than the 32 per cent rate, because additional money would be diverted to active business instead of being invested in tax exempt securities.

PICTURE UNVEILED

Marion, O., Sept. 9.—A picture of George McGinnis, Marion county's first world war soldier to die, was unveiled with befitting ceremony in the home of McGinnis Post 162, American Legion, Colonel George B. Christian, the only surviving charter member of Cooper Post No. 117, G. A. R., being the orator for the occasion. McGinnis died at the age of 19 in a southern camp.

IRELAND SEES PEACE IN LATE CABINET MOVE

Sinn Fein Leaders Express Satisfaction Over Action Of England

TO ACCEPT PARLEY

Believe Lloyd George May Be Making Play to Split Ranks

Dublin, Sept. 9.—Ireland believes that peace now lies ahead. Sinn Fein leaders today expressed satisfaction over the action of the British cabinet in withdrawing all the previous limitations, for a peace conference and making the single condition that Ireland remain within the empire. There are indications that the Sinn Fein leaders will not press their demands for a republic. Little doubt is felt that Eamon DeValera will accept the invitation to a peace parley at Iweriness on Sept. 20, and the republicans believe that he can now do so without compromising his position.

The opinion exists in some quarters however, that Premier Lloyd George may be making a play to split the Irish ranks upon the acceptance of dominion status for Ireland. Certain leaders said they believed the English premier was gambling upon causing a break away by the Irish republican army.

"But we are so disciplined that there is no fear of this," said one leader to the International News Service. "We are united and all stand behind DeValera. You can tell the American people that we are firm and that we ask our friends in the United States to keep a united front. We shall not let England break us. All is going to come out all right. Many times the Irish cause has been ruined by a break, but this time no matter what attitude DeValera takes he will have the support of us all."

The English note is now under consideration by the Sinn Fein leaders at Dublin and it is believed that a reply will have been sent to Premier Lloyd George by Monday.

The Pall Mall Gazette, a Lloyd George organ, predicts tragedy, anarchy and violent warfare if the new negotiations collapse.

REPORTER MARRIES COUPLE FOLLOWING MINISTER'S DELAY

Bellamy, Ala., Sept. 9.—Alabama is talking today about a most unusual wedding.

The minister who started to tie the knot was in an airplane which crashed into a tree; a blast from a siren at a lumber plant announced the arrival of the wedding party at the altar, 1,000 wedding guests were seated at a table in a frame church built for the ceremony and the table was so long that those at one end could not hear speakers at the other. Those who didn't dance were entertained by motion pictures.

Miss Kathryn Allison daughter of the President of a lumber company, was the bride and Allen Grubbs of Eutaw, was the groom.

Rev. Henry M. Edmonds of Birmingham, started out to fly to the ceremony, but after the accident found himself unable to reach Bellamy in time.

TO GET REPRESENTATION

Washington, Sept. 9.—Women were assured of the representation today at the forthcoming conference on unemployment which will be called under the supervision of Secretary of Commerce Hoover within the next two weeks.

President Harding asked Mrs. H. H. Taylor Upton to submit a list of names of ten women from which a number will be selected to participate in the conference. The exact number of women delegates has not been determined.

Central America Becomes Cauldron of Trouble Now

State of Affairs Assumes Threatening Aspect—Naval Forces Kept Within Hailing Distance Of Region Fearing Worst.

Washington, Sept. 9.—All of Central America is fast becoming a cauldron of trouble which may boil over at any moment in serious fashion, it is said in official circles today. "The whole situation is such that diplomatic and naval officials are

GIANT TELESCOPE WILL BE USED TO SEE MARS IN 1924

American to Establish Position In Mine Shaft In Chile.

The most ambitious attempt in the history of science to determine whether human life exists on the planet of Mars will be made in 1924 under the direction of an American, Ben Ali MacAfee. Mr. MacAfee, who now lives in France will establish a gigantic telescope in a mine shaft at Chile to get a direct view of Mars when that planet is nearest to earth in 1924. By scientific arrangements the planet Mars will be brought within five miles of earth theoretically for photographic purposes.

Mr. MacAfee has written the following story of his great, epochal experiment for the International News Service.

By BEN ALI MACAFEE
Villiers, Sur Mer, France, Sept. 9.—The gigantic telescope which I am planning to erect at Chanaral, Chile, for the study of Mars, is no new invention. Rather it is the grouping of several new and original ideas which will make it the most powerful in the world.

The revolving metal dish filled with mercury from the reflection of which photograph will be taken is not my invention. It is 30 years old. It was abandoned some time ago however.

The metal container with mercury will be fifty feet in diameter and will rest at the end of the telescope at the foot of the mine shaft. It will enable us to dispense with glass mirror reflectors.

At present we are only drawing up the plans for the telescope which will be built in Chile. It will be sunk in a convenient mine shaft which was found near Chanaral by my friend, Professor Todd. It is 300 feet deep and will contain the barrel of the telescope. When sheathed the diameter of the telescope will be 50 feet wide.

Mars will be nearer the earth in 1924 than at any other time in 100 years. For several months in that year Mars will be at its zenith directly over that part of Chile where our telescope will be erected.

While I will not attempt to communicate with Mars, I shall take thousands of photographs. They will be snapshots with a speed of nine one hundredths of a second. With Mars at the zenith Mars will be reflected upon the mercury which in turn will reflect it into a Praxinoscope at the top of the shaft which will throw it back into the camera faced at an angle of 45 degrees. We shall obtain an initial magnification of 50,000 and the pictures will be remagnified upon another screen 50,000 times. The first picture will show Mars about 200 miles away, theoretically and the second about one and one half miles away.

Chanaral, Chile, was chosen on account of the wonderfully clear atmosphere. The ground is covered with a nitrate soil and is void of all vegetation. Another reason was that Mars will be directly over that spot several times.

watching closely every development and are prepared to act promptly." Naval forces for sometime have been kept within hailing distance of this region under the directions of the commander of the so-called "special service squadrons."

This squadron, organized some months ago is designed especially for quick action on the turbulent coasts below our southern borders and based on Panama, has already proved its value.

It was learned today that, in view of the threatening state of affairs in Central America, these forces have been augmented and it is known that naval units have been on the scene of threatened trouble in Nicaragua and nearby points.

The outbreak in Panama and particularly the one now going on in Nicaragua is regarded by officials as merely an indication of what may happen later on a greater scale.

Already marines are occupying Haiti, San Domingo, Nicaragua, Cuba and are hovering near Panama and Costa Rica, ready to take a hand in those countries at an instant's notice.

"The Nicaraguan situation is a fair sample of conditions, with which American diplomats are dealing. Nicaragua has just succeeded in repelling an invasion from Honduras, and steadied by the presence of American naval forces, is now regarded as in a better situation than she was. But the invading forces are understood to have been Nicaraguan insurgents, encouraged by certain radical elements in the confederation formed by Honduras, Guatemala and Costa Rica. Nicaragua refused some time ago to join the confederation, consequently the turbulent element in the confederation, not only encouraged insurrection in Nicaragua but permitted the invasion of that country by its own insurgents from the borders of a friendly nation.

Eventual occupation of territory in this troubled area is regarded as a strong possibility of the near future.

Shortly after noon, U. S. Marshal James power deputy marshalls and 23 policemen, boarded the King Alexander and arrested every member of the crew said to number close to 300.

The men were formed into lines aboard the vessel to be taken to the federal building in Brooklyn.

The discovery of the rum and drugs smuggling interrupts the schedule of the ship which was to have sailed for Greece next Wednesday.

Officer Fitzpatrick was later identified as the head of the narcotic squad instead of federal enforcement agent.

Seizure of the vessel was considered by U. S. Attorney Collins of Brooklyn.

LIVING COSTS ARE STILL GOING UP

Washington Sept. 9.—In the face of widespread unemployment and stagnation in the agricultural and industrial lines the cost of living continues to mount higher and higher.

This was shown today when the bureau of labor statistics issued figures showing that in fifteen principal cities in the United States the retail cost of food increased from 1 to 8 per cent during the period July 15 to August 15.

The increases ranged from one percent in Minneapolis to eight percent in Rochester. In Milwaukee the increase was 6 per cent, Louisville 4 percent, in Houston, Texas, 3 per cent and in Batte and Dallas 2 per cent.

In general the cost of food this year is from 50 to 62 percent higher than in 1912.

FIND ATHERTON GUILTY AFTER CHARGES FLUNG

Gross Neglect in Office Charge On Which Official is Removed

ISSUES STATEMENT

Governor Says Conditions Existing Imperil Interests of Public

Newark, O., Sept. 9.—H. A. Atherton, former mayor of Newark, was officially notified by a representative from the governor's office today of his removal from office. He signed a receipt and immediately consulted his attorney, L. C. Russell, and it was decided to carry the case to the supreme court on the grounds that Mayor Atherton was removed from office on the grounds of omission rather than of commission. This action will be taken in the very near future. The news of the mayor's removal was received here without demonstration.

Columbus, O., Sept. 9.—Governor Davis today removed Mayor Herbert A. Atherton, Newark, from office.

The governor found Mayor Atherton guilty of gross neglect of duty in connection with charges filed with the governor some time ago by the law and order league of Newark. Among other charges, the mayor was accused of accepting bribes from gamblers to protect them from raids. Gov. Davis ruled out the accusation of misconduct on uncorroborated testimony of self confessed gamblers, admittedly animated by a spirit of revenge, could not be considered sufficient proof to warrant a finding of guilty on the charge of misconduct in office.

"Conditions shown in connection with the case to have been existent in Newark, imperil the interests of all the people of the state, and the ousting of the mayor, under whose administration these conditions arose, is an unavoidable necessity under all the circumstances," said the governor.

"The hearing given Mr. Atherton produced evidence indicating beyond doubt that, under his administration, gambling in Newark long has been widespread; that he as mayor knew, or should have known, the existence of this condition; that he was derelict in his duty in not causing prosecution to be instituted to end this condition and this failure constituted violation of his oath of office and his duties as mayor," Gov. Davis said.

"The evidence produced showed that gambling games were being run openly; that persons could walk into gambling houses and see the law violations; that one report of this condition to the police resulted in forty five minutes delay before the police arrived, though the police headquarters were right across the street, and that during the interval, the gamblers were informed and made their escape.

"This condition existed last January, but the testimony shows no arrests for gambling in Newark from April 1920, till July 18, of this year, or about the time of the filing of the charges against Atherton.

"Atherton also admitted that he knew Newark gamblers and suspected one of them of conducting a gambling house, but that prior to what he termed 'recently' he had made no effort to investigate.

"About one of these places, that of Robert A. White, Atherton said he knew all the time White conducted a place of private gambling, with faro bank and big games, 'which these other fellows didn't have,' and his place had been in operation 25 years, the testimony disclosed, and that once, and that only recently, had it been raided and arrests made.

"Regarding this same place, Atherton testified: 'I will admit I was in there, yes, often. But I knew they had gambling rooms in these places.'

"The mayor thus admitted his knowledge of these conditions and should have taken vigorous and necessary steps to end such law violations," declared Gov. Davis.

"The chief of police of Newark testified that he spent practically all of his time at headquarters. Atherton as mayor must be presumed to be sufficiently familiar with law enforcement to know that effective work to prevent operation of gambling places cannot be done, if the chief does not personally seek to gain first hand knowledge of conditions.

"On the strength of this evidence, we are compelled to find Herbert A. Atherton, mayor of the city of Newark, guilty of the charge of gross neglect of duty in that he failed properly to enforce the law and, hereby, remove him from his said office as mayor.

"We are compelled, however, to disregard uncorroborated testimony against said mayor by self-confessed gamblers admittedly animated by a spirit of revenge; men who admit their only business is that of gambling and who charged they paid Atherton money for police protection.

"True, or untrue, we cannot accept a sufficient testimony of men of this type without at least a measure of corroboration from substantial witnesses. We must, therefore, rule out the second charge of misconduct in office."

COURT NEWS

Charges Gross Neglect
John W. Cummings charges that his wife is guilty of gross neglect of duty, absented herself frequently and made his life miserable in his suit for divorce from Florence V. Cummings, filed with Clerk of Courts Elam yesterday. The couple was married February 1, 1919.

Goes to Court for Salary
Frank W. Schultz claims his employer paid him part of his wages in his suit against Adelaide Skinner, asking a judgment of $347.25 with interest from February 19, 1921, filed with Clerk of Courts Elam yesterday. The petition states the plaintiff worked for the defendant from October 21 1920 to February 19, 1921, under agreement doing general work on her farm for which the customary pay was $4 a day, making a total of $416 for the 104 days. The plaintiff also alleges the defendant agreed to pay the cost of moving his furniture from Dayton when he took the employment, the bill amounting to $30, and that she was to furnish board and lodging for him from October 1, 1920 to March 1, 1921. He claims that during that time he spent $37 for food, consumed jointly by the plaintiff and defendant, totalling $483 due him from the defendant of which she had only paid $135.75 leaving a balance of $347.25. C. L. Darlington is attorney for the plaintiff.

Action Is Dismissed.
Judge Gowdy has issued an order Court has dismissed the case of Fred Hengst against E. S. Foust at the request and the costs of the plaintiff, without record.

Contempt of Court Charged
Judge Gowdy has issued an order for Keith Moon to appear in Common Pleas Court on a contempt of court charge for failure to comply with the order of the court in paying $3 a week to Mary Sessler, Jamestown, and to secure the payment with the bond ordered. Mary Sessler, the complainant who claims Moon is the father of her child, claims he has not complied with the court order regarding the payments.

The case of The Peoples Bank of J. G. Clemens & Company of Jamestown against J. H. Rolfe and Margaret Rolfe, was found in favor of the plaintiff, when Judge Gowdy in Common Pleas Court, allowed a judgment against the defendants totalling $373.49 on two promissory notes given to the plaintiff.

Huber Haverstick, Carl Merriam and Harry Haverstick were among those from this vicinity who attended the State Fair last week. Joe and Huber Haverstick left Saturday on a motor trip to Washington D. C. The former's wife who has been visiting her parents in that city will return with them.

Homer Koogler and wife spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Harry Breidenour, near Vandalia. The seven passenger Buick touring car belonging to G. W. Lantz, which was stolen in Dayton Saturday night was recovered Sunday afternoon on the Smithville Road, where it had been abandoned when the supply of gasoline became exhausted. Groceries and other purchases which were in the machine when stolen were missing.

William Stewart, who has been very seriously ill, is recovering, and is able to sit up. Miss Thelma Brewer is taking a course in Bookkeeping and Short hand at a Commercial School in Dayton.

BALDNER-FRINK NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED

In the presence of sixty relatives and friends, the marriage of Miss Edna Maud Baldner, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Baldner and Mr. Harry Edmund Frink, of Salisbury County, Connecticut, was solemnized at the Baldner home on East Church street, Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

White clematis, festooned about the rooms, combined with dahlias, cosmos and fern formed the handsome decorations of the Baldner home for the ceremony. The marriage vows were taken in the parlor before a pretty setting of green plants and fall flowers. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. W. Middletown of the First Reformed Church, the bride's pastor.

Attired in a becoming fall dress of pheasant shade georgette with beaded trimmings, the bride was quite charming. She wore a corsage of white bride's roses. There were no attendants.

Following the ceremony, light refreshments were served. The large company of guests. The bride's table was attractively laid, with decorations of white clematis, and fern. Pink candles were placed at each end, a kewpie bride and groom forming the centerpiece, with place cards of kewpies. Seated at the bride's table, were Mr. and Mrs. Frink, Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Baldner and daughter Cecilia Ann of Dayton, Miss Helen Jones, Mr. Paul Maxey, Miss Helen Maxey, Mr. Lawrence Currie, Miss Louise Baldner, Miss Esther Engle of Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Baldner, and Mrs. Ralph Swickart, of Dayton.

During the luncheon course, the wedding cake was cut by the bride, the contents being awarded as follows: Miss Esther Engle, the thimble, Mr. John G. Baldner the button and Miss Helen Jones, the ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Frink left about 10 o'clock, for Dayton, leaving Friday for the East. They will take a trip through Niagara, Buffalo and other points. Upon their return from their trip they will reside on Mr. Frink's farm at Salisbury, Connecticut.

Mrs. Frink's traveling suit was of reindeer peachbloom, with a hat of the same shade.

Out of town guests at the wedding were, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Peterson, Miss Esther Engle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Baldner and daughter Cecilia Ann, and Mrs. Ralph Swickart of Dayton, and Mrs. Wright Maddux of Frankfort, Ohio.

INFORMAL DINNER IS CHARMING AFFAIR

One of the most charming affairs of the social season, was the informal dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. David W. Cherry and Miss Helen Boyd at the Old Barn Club, in Dayton Thursday evening.

Eighty-two guests, from this city and out of town, were received. The rooms of the club were attractive in a profusion of fall flowers, and potted plants.

The guests were seated at small tables, which were centered with brilliant bouquets of late summer flowers, banked with potted hydrangea. A delicious four course dinner was served.

After dinner, cards were enjoyed by the guests. Five-handed progressive five-hundred offered much amusement for the guests during the remainder of the evening. A novel arrangement in the awarding of the prizes added to the interest of the game. At the first progress, the guests holding the highest score at each table, were awarded prizes. At the next move the lowest score holders, were given clever suggestions to increase their scores.

Out-of-town guests at the affair were, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Baylor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dock, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Laybourne and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harford, of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Drake of Yellow Springs; Mrs. James Dillon, of Columbus; Mrs. Arthur Featherstone, of Kansas City; Mrs. J. P. Elton, of New Vienna; Miss Louie Miller, of Alpha, and Mr. William Kelly of Evansville, Indiana.

LAST CASEY DANCE WELL ATTENDED

About fifty couples attended the final of a series of three park dances given by Xenia Council No. 1801, Knights of Columbus, held at Kilkare Park, Thursday evening.

For the third affair, the committee obtained a different orchestra, the Orpheum Quintet, a music-making organization that is booked on vaudeville circuits, furnishing the music, which introduced a number of eccentric song and dance features.

SHOPLIFTING IS CHARGED AGAINST WOMAN; FINED

Dorothy Bray, colored, arrested by Chillicothe authorities, and brought to this city by Probation Officer Watts, Thursday, faced a charge of shoplifting goods from the Hutchison and Gibney department store in the court of Magistrate Jones, Friday morning.

The girl was arrested following the confession of Mrs. Zora Summers 21, colored, who was fined in Probate Court for stealing a dress from the Jobe Brothers' store and who implicated the Bray woman, saying the latter had stolen a quantity of goods from the Hutchison and Gibney store.

The Bray woman entered a plea of guilty to the charge, Friday morning, and was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the work house, the days being suspended on payment of the fine, payment for the goods stolen and a promise of good behavior. In the course of her hearing, the Bray woman admitted that with Mrs. Summers she had stolen two hats from the Finney millinery store, and they agreed also to pay for that property.

SOCIAL WORKER DESCRIBES PLIGHT OF STRICKEN RUSSIA

Note:—This article has been received by the International News Service from Miss Bessie Beatty, noted social worker and former San Francisco and Los Angeles newspaper writer, who made a three weeks' investigation of the family conditions in Samara.

By BESSIE BEATTY. Samara, Russia, Sept. 9.—A block from the surging mass of traders that fill the market place in this heart of Russia's death district, scene of grotesque contrasts, a woman sat by the roadside, huddled over a bit of sacking. She turned her face to me; she was dumb with misery. She tried to speak but her voice was so faint I could not hear her.

I stooped down and pulled back the sacking. A boy of four, the last of her family lay there. He was dying slowly. Hunger does not hurry. I gave her bread. She laid it aside. It was too late for bread. She asked me for something to bury him in.

A few yards away sat a child of ten. In her arms she held a thing that long since had ceased to look like a baby. Two thin claws clutching, monkey-like at a cranberry. Life was fighting there, avaricious.

"He fights for milk and I have none," the child said. I gave the tot some bread and milk from a bottle I was taking back to a friend on the boat. The baby seized it greedily. Beyond was a boy of 12, trying to comfort another baby whose mother was in the hospital. The child was a pitiable picture of hunger. A Cossack peasant woman with seven of her own to feed saw him. She snatched up the baby, sat down by the roadside, tore open her dress, nursed the child and went her way. In Saratov I heard two women talking.

"It's all the same wherever we go," one said. "Wherever we go we will die; I want to go back to the farm and die with the others," her companion answered.

There was a little girl with them too weak to speak. "I had a boy too, yesterday," said the mother, "he died last night."

Before we arrived thousands of peasants had left their villages but the receipt of seed from the government stopped the exodus.

DAUGHTERY ILL Washington, Sept. 9.—Attorney General Daugherty, who has been ill during the last 48 hours, last night was reported much improved. A few weeks ago he had an attack of pneumonia poisoning and appeared to recover. Yesterday, as a result of sitting in a draft, he had a relapse.

FORD PAYS VISIT TO SPRINGFIELD; SLEEPS IN CAR

Henry Ford, Detroit automobile magnate, slept on a cot in a baggage car while other members of his party stayed at the Shawnee Hotel in Springfield, Thursday night, while the party was on a tour of inspection of Ford's D. T. & I. railroad property in that city.

Ford said he expects a general improvement in business soon and he announced that production will begin shortly on a new locomotive he has designed for the railroad. It is said his purpose is to produce a light engine with comparatively great tractive power for heavy hauls that can be operated economically. Ford also intends to improve the mechanical facilities of the Springfield shops of the railroad soon.

Of the inspection party were Ford and his son, Edsel, William Mayo, chief engineer of the Ford plant; W. M. Smith of the Ford laboratory department; R. J. Miller, assistant to Ford and W. C. Cowling, a director of the railroad company.

LOCAL TEAM LOSES

After a hard fought battle, the team representing the Xenia Quoit Club lost to Centerville Thursday night at Centerville, by dropping seven out of 13 games played.

The tournament was a 12 game affair, but at the end of the dozen games, each team had six contests to its credit. One game was played to play off the tie, which the Centerville team won, giving that team 7 out of 13 games.

The local club will go to Dayton Friday night to play a new team that has been formed there.

MYSTERY SOLVED

Marion, O., Sept. 9.—Marion's police force has solved another mystery. "A rag and a bone and a hank of hair," and a man sitting on a log "weeping bitterly" in Scofield woods were discovered by Miss Della Ash, who notified the police. Hurriedly cops flung the spot. They found the "remains" which was turned over to the coroner.

They also found the man and arrested him. Coroner Burnside pronounced the "remains" dog bones. He did not venture to pass judgment on the hank of hair. Mayor Andrews fined the man for being drunk. The fellow admitted consuming a bottle of hair tonic but insisted he knew nothing about a murder.

Health Talks

By John B. Huber, AMMD

Rise early, go to bed early, and in the meantime keep yourself occupied. THE PAIN HABIT. The acuteness of pain or length of time it endures corresponds largely to the suddenness of its occurrence and the persistence of its course. Pain may persist after the removal of its cause because the pain habit has been formed by the affected nerves and their associated centers. Pain may be recurrent or periodic, days or weeks elapsing between successive attacks, as with migraine; but the pain may be continuous, with occasional let-ups, as in headaches from eye strain. Further information regarding pain on request.

COLLINS "INVADES" ULSTER, BEARING AN OLIVE BRANCH.

Michael Collins, Sinn Fein Minister of Finance and commander-in-chief of the Irish Republican Army, visited North Ireland, (Ulster) on Sunday and was received with great honors by all the Sinn Feiners in that section.

Mr. Collins delivered a speech, the bulk of which was devoted to the position of the six Ulster counties. Mr. Collins said the argument had been used that the six counties were prosperous and the rest of Ireland would tax them out of existence. These six counties, he declared, had lost 411,000 of their population since 1861 and there were 8498 fewer houses. County Antrim headed the emigration list.

"The emigration figures," he said, "go to show that more Protestants than Catholics left the northern counties to escape English rule." The taxation of Ulster to pay England, which he estimated at £10 per head, he asserted, was sufficient to bring the Ulsterites into a united Ireland, but if it did not the links of custom houses would.

Would the six counties, he asked, deprive themselves of the advantage of economic association with new Ireland and accept the status of an English shire and pay six shillings income tax while the rest of Ireland paid one shilling or less?

"We can afford to give them even more than justice," he said. "We can afford to be generous. That is our message to the North."

The existing religious intolerance, he further asserted, was a product of the English policy. The Orangemen had been used as a tool to prevent what was inevitable.

The moment was near, declared Mr. Collins, when they would be no longer useful, and, standing in the way of an agreement essential to British interests, would be thrown over. Irish freedom was coming and nobody could stop it, and, with freedom, an era of prosperity, development and growing industries.

It was obvious from Mr. Lloyd George's letters, he declared, that the Northern Parliament was being used as an excuse to keep the North and South asunder, but the Orangemen, who had been used as tools, might find that they stood in the way of an agreement, which was in England's interest, and then they would be thrown aside.

"Freedom for Ireland is coming; nobody can stop it," he exclaimed. "Is Ulster, with her tottering Parliament, going to stay out?"

Owen O. Duffy, Chief Liaison Officer for the Northern District, in dealing with Ulster, was more emphatic than his chief.

"If Ulster fails to come into united Ireland," he declared, "we will tighten the boycott. If that is not successful we will bring lead against them. Ulster cannot remain a bridgehead against the advance of the nation."

THE MOTOR'S TOLL.

The toll of lives and injuries in motor accidents is far larger than it has right, or reason, to be. Most of the casualties are not ascribable to flaws in the machine. They are due to failures of the human temperament or to want of training.

Every Monday morning the newspapers carry a long list of fatalities from the day before; it is only to be expected that the previous day with its extended opportunities for joy-riders and one-hand experts would show the longest tally. Every section has its full share of these accidents. The evil pre-eminence in the country-at-large seems to go to Los Angeles, with 230 deaths in 1920, a rate of 391 per million. Pittsburgh came next with 196 deaths, and Buffalo had 169.

What is the remedy? There is none aside from the exercise of increased caution and strict observance of the traffic regulations, with proper penalties for the violation. The automobile is not the enemy, but the friend, of civilization and it is entitled to the same respectful consideration we show the locomotive or the trolley car or any other means of transportation indispensable to civilized mankind. It will not help to abuse the machine. We must teach ourselves to use it properly.

INITIAL TRADES SCHOOL FOR SOUTH OPENS IN NEW ORLEANS.

The first complete trades school in the South and one of the largest in the country has just been opened in New Orleans, with an enrollment of eighty. Its capacity is 450.

This realizes a need of long standing in New Orleans, which has been steadily increasing in importance as an industrial center. The demand for skilled labor has been growing rapidly in recent years, and the Delgado Trades School is expected not only to give opportunities for self-advancement to those who would otherwise remain in the unskilled class or move elsewhere, but to encourage industry to establish there.

The building embodies the best points of standard trades schools of the East. It cost $685,000, and the equipment $100,000. To operate the school at capacity will cost about $100,000 a year. A special State tax provides $50,000 a year.

Present enrollment comprises returned veterans, who are being given a new start in life by the Federal Board of Vocational Training.

When the school term opens in mid-September, boys who have attained an eighth grade education and men of whatever qualifications will be eligible. Tuition is free.

The trades being taught are carpentry, cabinet making, pattern making, plumbing, painting, sheet metal working, machinists' trade, electrical workers' trade, printing and tailoring.

The Board of Directors is made up of representatives of the civil authorities, the public educational system and the industrial interests.

NEVER MIND, BILL, FATHERS NEVER ARE GIVEN MUCH CONSIDERATION ON SUCH OCCASIONS

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Arrangements have been made whereby the Greene County Infirmary will cease to have a department for the insane, and all patients, will hereafter be sent to the State Hospital at Dayton.

Miss Margaret Graham, Rose Berry and Mary Golden who were among the excursionists to Mackinac have returned home having had a delightful trip.

A fire occurred in the village of Osborn yesterday, which did much damage. It took place early in the morning and was likely the work of a spark from a passing engine. Mr. Poe Tiffany left today for Cleveland and Buffalo to see the sights of the exposition. Before returning home he will go east where he will purchase a line of holiday goods.

Messrs. John McNealis and Frank Daniels who are employed in the McCormick twine mill in Chicago, will take their departure for that city today, after having spent about ten days at their homes in this city.

The method is to give a heavy treatment for the scalp, but a light one for the face and place the finger tips between the eyes and the vibrator when passing over the eyelids.

WILL RE-SUBMIT BOND PROPOSAL

Cleveland, Sept. 9.—Despite the fact that the voters have twice overwhelmingly defeated the proposal, the Cuyahoga county building commission will again submit at the fall election a proposition to issue bonds to the amount of $2,000,000 to complete the new county jail. Plans for the structure have been greatly changed and all "frills and furbelows" omitted, the commissioners declare.

SCHOOL TO OPEN

Urbana, Sept. 9.—The Urbana University school opens for the year September 21. The dormitories are being put in order, and several improvements added for the comfort of the students. The Rev. Louis G. Hoeck, of Cincinnati, the new president of the school, has been on the ground to look after the preparations for the opening of the school.

This Nurse Tells Mothers

How to Save Children from Skin Irritations and Soreness

West Carthage, N. Y.—"I am a graduate nurse, and I feel it a duty I owe to mothers whose little ones suffer from chafing, rashes, itching, scalding, or any skin irritation or soreness, to tell them that in all my experience as a nurse I have never found anything equal to Sykes Comfort Powder to heal and soothe the skin. Habitually used after a child's bath, it heals and prevents soreness and rashes."—Mabel E. Miller, R. N., W. Carthage, N. Y.

The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is so successful in such cases is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums. For twenty years it has been used and endorsed by physicians and mothers, and nurses call it "A Healing Wonder."

IMPRESSIVE EYES

A little incident that happened the other day impressed me so much that I think it quite worth passing on to some of my Readers. I stopped in at the home of an old friend whose daughter had just returned from a summer vacation and who was about to go to another city to take up some social work. She had been in college four years, and I believe, graduated last June. When I last saw her a couple of years ago she was a complete nonentity, the sort of girl that you meet again and again and forget as soon as you are away from her. She had nice enough features but a vated or not. I am inclined to think they can be, though there is always the danger that a girl might make herself affected. I think in this more than in any other case she would have to use her common sense. The only direct advice I feel safe in giving is this—do not be afraid to show your thoughts through your face. It is possible to make the eyes blank it is, therefore, possible, to make them expressive.

M. R. T.—I know of nothing better for keeping blonde hair from growing dark, than to give it plenty of sunshine. This should be done easily by the girls who live suburban or in the country, as they always look well going about without a hat in their informal way of living. One season of this treatment will beautify the shade of any hair even though it is almost lifeless.

H. C.—All the Persian shades will be the most becoming to you, in fact, you will be able to revel in rich coloring and be a most striking person.

H. N. D.—Yes, the vibrator is a great help in giving home treatments. It does not cause hair to grow of the face but it will do it where it is needed—on the head. In using it on the face, move the face around the ball on the end of the vibrator, instead of laying the attachment on the skin and moving it over the face. The reason for this is that most vibrators used at home are held in the hand and are so heavy, it is natural to support it and in this way, the skin is receiving a heavier treatment than is good for perfectly blank face and absolutely characterless eyes.

I puzzled for a long time about the change in her, wondering exactly where this new prettiness came from. The regular features were just the same, the skin was just as pale and clear, but her face now was the face that one remembers with pleasure afterward. Then I discovered that the whole change was in her eyes, which instead of being blank, had become animated and expressive. And this small but important change made her beautiful where she had been nondescript before; and impressive where she had been a social blank.

I do not know whether expressive eyes can be consciously cultivated.

THE STORY TELLER.

James Jarvis Jinks is in his glory when he's relating anecdotes; all things remind him of a story, and men who listen lose their goats, for all the tales he tells are hoary, and blue mould on the surface floats. He surely sees when he's beginning a dreary yarn that Adam knew, that fellows quit their cheerful grinning, and look morose, distraught and blue; he ought to know that he is sinning by handing out a yarn or two. This Jinks has many kinds of merit, and well might rank with honored males, had he neglected to inherit his passion for bewhiskered tales; that graft—the people cannot bear it; all story bores should be in jails. It's strange how bores will keep on boring, when they must see they make men tired; the orator continues roaring till through the transom he is fired; the frenzied bard is bent on soaring when sawing wood is most desired. Sometimes when I get busy talking I mark a hearer heave a sigh, or wipe the tears that come a-flooding around the corner of his eye; and then I know my conduct's shocking, I'm so ashamed I fain would die. Then I reform until, forgetful, I launch upon another spiel, and seeing some poor victim fretful, the currents of my soul congeal; I then proceed, remorseful, sweatful, to kick myself with my right heel.

A Traffic Officer

I found one of Emerson's unique the other day. I was driving through the city of Detroit.

At Grand Circus Park where Madison and Woodward Avenues come up to each other, there is a traffic officer worth going across the country to meet. As I approached his corner I drew up my car to make the turn. One glance. A smile. I should say 24 karat fine! A man tall, muscular, and unafraid. And an officer the soul of courtesy and consideration. A real public servant!

"All right, New York, step on 'er!" I stepped.

I came back to that corner again and again—just to get a little more of this man's vision of life in the small spot where he performed his work from day to day.

A traffic officer with a highly developed sense of humor! Rare is it not?

Contagious, too, I am sure. For never have I driven in a city where the traffic officers as a whole have been such gentlemen and so courteous as in the city of Detroit. And bear in mind that this is the hub from which stream more automobiles than any place in the world. And probably the most congested from the standpoint of number of cars used in the city. Yet the system of handling is so well regulated and the officers so efficient that there is little confusion and a minimum of irritation.

At golf in the afternoon, I mentioned this particular traffic officer to my friends and I was not surprised to hear them make some complimentary remark about him. They all knew who he was, and each had his own story to tell of him.

As I have thought this man over I have said to myself—here is an important unit in the life of his city and a very influential citizen. How BIG a man may make his job—be it ever so simple or unattractive.

And what a great thing to FILL your job, yourself the biggest thing about it!

That traffic officer at Madison and Woodward is the WHOLE thing where he is. "May he live long and prosper," as old Rip did once say.

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

Convention Time Drawing Near

Convention features already are beginning to crowd for place and convention detail is engaging the undivided attention of Cincinnati club women who are to be hostesses to the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs at the convention during the last week in October.

Music will again be an outstanding part of the convention program as will be fitting for a city of such distinguished musical reputation.

Mrs. Warren P. Williamson, Youngstown, head of the music department of the state federation, is planning big things. She expects to have at the convention the music chairman of the General Federation. This is Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer, Chicago, whose fame is nation-wide.

Miss Giovannina Ulaturio, the protégé of the Ohio federation is to attend and contribute to the program's success. She is to graduate from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music in the spring. Her ability as a musician is declared to be of a high order.

"It is indeed gratifying that women generally are becoming interested in this greatest of all arts, the art of music," Mrs. Williamson writes. "Today with the various mechanical devices for reproduction women can become intimately acquainted with the best music." She one or more delegates to the state convention.

Mrs. W. L. Whitacre, Columbus, state corresponding secretary advises that club women expecting to attend the state convention communicate at once with their local railroad agents and ask him if he has certificates on hand and if not to at once make requisition for them. When leaving for the convention club women should purchase a one-way regular tariff rate ticket and at the same time ask the agent for a certificate. Immediately upon arrival in Cincinnati the certificate should be deposited with the committee which will be located at Hotel Gibson, the convention headquarters.

This is important because club women will not be able to procure a reduced fare for their return journey unless the certificates are signed and identified by Mrs. Whitacre and a validating agent for the Central Passenger association. Club women in this way will secure a rate of one and one-third. Tickets will be validated only on October 27 and 28, hence the necessity for tickets being immediately deposited.

Hobson Study Circle is the youngest club at Athens. It was organized in October, 1920. It was named after one of the organizers of the Pallas club, the first federated club at Athens. Its program for this year has been a miscellaneous one with magazine articles and lectures by professors of Ohio university. One of the most interesting lectures of the year was that of Professor Mardis who took up the illiteracy problem. He then proposed the organization of a league for the wiping out of illiteracy in Athens county and expressed the hope that within a year there would not be a man or woman or child of twelve not able to write and read the American language. The league was organized and the Hobson club became one of its sponsors.

The club's civic work is done through the federation, its kindergarten work through the Kindergarten Club and its charity work through the city and county health nurses.

Mrs. Anna Hobson, for whom the club was named, is eighty-seven years old and still actively engaged in club work.

Cold Welfare Work

The Lima Federation is especially interested in child welfare work at this time. It will be the underscored program work of the federation calendar. Dr. Josephine Peirce is the chairman of this department.

PROBE CONDITION OF MOTOR FIRM

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Investigation of the affairs of the Dragon Motors Corporation was under way today, both Federal and state authorities taking part.

The corporation now the subject of bankruptcy proceedings, is charged with having sold hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of stock to persons of moderate means, at the same time turning out but 13 automobiles.

Work is at a standstill, it is said, because there is no one to pay bills. Postoffice agents are endeavoring to learn what use the promoters made of the mails, and Attorney General Brundage is investigating the concern for alleged sale of its stock in violation of the "blue sky" law.

In addition to the Dragon Motors Corporation, the Lindich Finance Corporation and the Lincoln Service Corporation are under investigation. Herman W. Neidich, President of the Dragon Company, also is President of the two other corporation, which it is charged, were organized solely to sell Dragon stock.

BIG RECOVERY MADE BY CORN IN 30 DAYS

Washington, Sept. 9.—Recovery of the corn crop during August from the serious damage sustained from July weather conditions featured the September grain report of the department of agriculture. Favored with good growing temperatures and plenty of rain in practically the entire corn belt, the production forecast made a jump of 154,000,000 bushels, bringing the indicated production to 3,186,000,000 bushels or only 48,000,000 bushels less than last year's crop, the largest ever grown. With continued favorable conditions this year's production may yet become a record crop. Indications are that most of the crop is now out of danger from frost.

FEEDS TREES AND FINDS IT IS LIKED

Members of the State Horticultural Society who attended its meeting at Ashland saw an orchard which, according to fruit specialists of the Ohio State University extension staff, has not missed a crop in 11 years. It has no tangle of vines or other things, when the apple crop of the state is barely a third.

T. E. Thornburg, the proprietor of this orchard, played host to the fruit-growers. Ask how he got trees to yield so well and so steadily, he said it was by "feeding" them. For 24 years, Mr. Thornburg, said he has been applying to his orchard 15 tons of manure to acre, and to each tree during the "blossom-pink" period five pounds of ammonium sulphate, 5 pounds of 20 percent acid phosphate, and 5 pounds muriate of potash.

Mr. Thornburg further impressed on visiting growers that the stuff which makes apples comes out of the air as well as up from the ground; that trees need a large leaf surface properly to build up large crops; and that it does not pay to prune young trees severely.

Included in the Thornburg orchard are 10 baldwin trees, now in their tenth year, which produced 97 bushels late year. A Grimes Golden tree in its twenty-fifth year has produced a total of 267 bushels since 1914 with never an "off-season."

SLAY 50,000 HENS AND SAVE $40,000

Only a few years ago, poultry experts discovered plain signs by which anyone can take a bird in hand and decide whether or not it is laying, and whether it intends to lay between midsummer and midwinter.

Since July 1, 42,276 Ohio country people have been taught this method at a series of 1,803 farm demonstrations in 55 counties and it has saved them at least $40,000 says poultry extension specialists of the Ohio State University.

Almost an even 200,000 hens have been handled at these meetings and almost an even quarter of this number have been found not laying and killed. For each non-layer eliminated it is estimated that the owner will save 80 cents between now and January 1. The demonstrations continue.

CEDARVILLE

Mrs. Elizabeth Collette of Van Wert, has been visiting friends in this place. After spending a few days with friends in Xenia and Springfield she will go to Huntington, Ind. where she will spend the winter with her son, Dan Collett and family.

Cedarville College opened its doors Wednesday morning to a great number of students than have ever been in attendance. Dr. Bauman of Springfield, who is connected with the Hanna divinity school gave the opening address.

Coach Blackburn is now taking up his duties and football practice was begun immediately, about twenty five men were out to the opening practice.

Mr. Harry Wright left Sunday afternoon for Lynchburg where he will take up his work as principal of the High School in that place.

Rev. Robert Hutchinson of Philadelphia, Pa., attended the opening of the College. He and his family are spending the month of September with Mrs. Hutchinson's parents.

WANTS TO HELP OTHERS WHO ARE IN THE SAME CONDITION

Johnstown Man Tells of the Nature of His Suffering and How Nerv-Worth Gave Quick Relief.

"I had been so nervous for a long time that I could not get any rest," said W. M. Wigginton who resides at 804 Napoleon street, Johnstown, Pa., and who is one of the city's most substantial citizens. "This caused me to be tired in the morning and I had that draggy and run down feeling. Coupled with these troubles I had a poor appetite, my digestion was in bad shape and I suffered severe pains in my back so that I could not work. On top of it all my kidneys did not work right. I finally got a bottle of Nerv-Worth and took it as directed and now I want to tell you that I am pleased to say I am alright again. My appetite and digestion are good, I sleep soundly and my nervousness is gone. I am no longer suffering with pains in my back and my kidneys are acting properly. I am making this statement for the benefit of others in the same condition so that they will know what Nerv-Worth will do." This statement in itself tells the whole story. If your nerve force is low, your whole system suffers. If you are not enjoying perfect health as you should, give Nerv-Worth a trial and if your first bottle does not benefit you, your money will be refunded. Be sure to get the genuine in the large bottle which comes only in the $1.00 size. Sold by Sayre and Hemphill and all leading druggists everywhere.

QUIET PREVAILS IN ILLINOIS COUNTY

Elizabethtown, Ills., Sept. 9.—Armed quiet prevailed in Hardin County, with 800 miners reported encamped in the hills a few miles north of town and about half as many deputy sheriffs, private detectives and citizen guards holding the roads and nearby hills.

Plans for a sortie into the hills in force were held in abeyance following receipt of word that Adjutant General Dickson was enroute to Elizabethtown and Rosiclarre as the personal representative of Governor Len Small to investigate the situation.

County officials are hopeful that the adjutant general can meet the invading miners and turn them back without bloodshed.

Sheriff D. N. Cox wired Adjutant General Dickson asking for 250 Springfield rifles and the necessary ammunition. Under the Illinois laws the adjutant general is required to furnish the sheriff with arms in emergencies.

CONFESSES HE SHOT EASTERN WOMAN

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 9.—Philip J. McDermott, 61, gave himself up at police headquarters here today and, according to the police confessed to the fatal shooting of Mrs. Monica Morrill, 31, yesterday.

"I shot her because she sneered at me after she had milked me of my money," McDermott is alleged to have told the police. The shooting is said to have followed a whipping administered to McDermott by the woman's sweetheart, Robert Creighton, after she had complained of the older man's attentions.

WAVE OF ENTHUSIASM SWEEPS OVER NATION

Thousands Write Grateful Letters of Appreciation As Famous Medicine Continues to Accomplish Remarkable Results—Great Tanlac Laboratories Running at Top Speed to Supply Record Breaking Demand—Over Half a Million Bottles Behind With Orders.

By CHARLES MURRAY GILBERT

ATLANTA, GA., September 9.—"Tanlac made me feel younger," "It put me back on the payroll," "I now have a fine appetite," "I can eat whatever I want," "No more dyspepsia for me," "I gained weight rapidly." These and scores of like expressions are now heard daily from tens of thousands, as grateful users of Tanlac tell of their experiences.

Leading drug men of the country are amazed at the tremendous sales of Tanlac, and point out enthusiastically that nothing has ever equalled the phenomenal demand for this preparation.

At the great Tanlac laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, letters and telegrams are pouring in daily asking that shipments of Tanlac be rushed at once. Many of these orders are for full car load shipments, and quite a few of them for two and three carloads. Although running at top speed, the Tanlac laboratories are now over half a million bottles, or approximately twenty four carloads behind with orders. This announcement will no doubt be received with great surprise in the drug world, because business in many lines, especially in the drug and medicine business, has been off from 40 to 50 per cent.

One druggist in every city, town and village in the United States and Canada where agencies have not already been established will be awarded the exclusive publicity agency for Tanlac within the next thirty days. These agencies will carry with them a big publicity campaign exclusively for the one druggist in each city and town who secures the agency.

Tanlac is going right ahead more vigorously than ever before. For Tanlac there is no such thing as business depression. In fact, Tanlac does not believe there is such a thing as hard times; at least, not in the drug business.

Things are getting better every day. In a few weeks' time crops will begin to move. Hundreds of millions of dollars will be put into circulation, and business will soon be back on a better and sounder basis than in years.

Notice To Dealers

Many wholesalers and manufacturers stopped pushing at the very first sign of a dark cloud. The result being that many drug lines slumped. Tanlac went right ahead and the result has been that more Tanlac has been sold during the first six months of the present year than in any corresponding period in the past.

Line up with Tanlac. Connect with a product that sells no matter how the times, because of its superior merit.

Although Tanlac has been on the market over six years, it is an actual fact that more Tanlac is being sold today with the same amount of advertising than during any time in the past.

Tanlac will not only prove your greatest seller for this year, but for many years to come.

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and by leading druggists everywhere.

NEGRO ELECTROCUTED EARLY ON FRIDAY

Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—Electrocution of Sylvester Brown, 27, negro, took place at the penitentiary here at 1:07 this morning. When Brown met death in the electric chair he was clasping a Bible and was pleading for God's mercy. He was convicted of murdering Patrolman Alexander R. Warren, Youngstown, May 2, last.

In accord with custom, Warden Thomas turned down the joint wish of Brown and his wife, Mattie, that she be permitted to witness the electrocution. Previous to the electrocution the Warden announced that he would not, knowingly, permit relatives of either a murderer or of persons murdered to witness an electrocution.

Brown's body will be shipped to Youngstown for burial. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Washington, and a half sister, Miss Lena Washington, Williamson, S. C.

Brown fired four bullets into Officer Warren's body when the patrolman ordered him and three other negroes to halt.

The negroes had robbed a store and were in the neighborhood of another place where they proposed to commit a crime when they were met by Patrolman Warren. They escaped but were captured a few days later.

CONGRESSMAN FESS ADDRESSES STUDENT BODY AT ANTIOCH

Congressman S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs, former president of Antioch College, addressed the student body of Antioch at the chapel exercises held Thursday, using for his subject "Old Antioch."

In introducing Dr. Fess, Arthur E. Morgan, president of the college, said that progressive steps taken by the former president when he was head of Antioch were responsible for the present plan of the institution.

Dr. Fess congratulated the new students on being in the inaugural class of the "New Antioch Plan" and he declared the large number of new students augurs well for the institution. Speaking of the original opening of the college, the speaker said that 1,000 applications were received, but only 150 could be accepted. The following year the enrollment was doubled and reached its climax of 500 in the third year.

President Morgan also talked, telling of his work in connection with the establishment of the new plan at the college and of his belief that the school would be more successful in the small community than in a large city.

Wives of members of the faculty were entertained Thursday afternoon at the Yellow Springs Presbyterian Church by members of the congregation. A class in archery has been organized by Mrs. Arthur E. Morgan among the wives of faculty members and girl students.

While Coach Earl Prugh is training four football squads, it is not believed that inter-college games will be played this fall, the football outlet being in intra-mural games. The girls' tennis tournament at the College will be started next week.

TEAMS TO MEET FOR SECOND GAME

St. Brigid's Meteors and the Home Brew baseball teams will come together for the second time this season next Sunday afternoon at the Cincinnati avenue lot.

The Home Brews won an exciting 13 inning game by the close score of 4 to 3 in the previous encounter and Sunday's game promises to be a warm ly contested affair. The Brews will present their regular line-up with Frank B. Chambliss on the mound. Manager Haller of the Meteors has strengthened his team with the addition of several new players, and Duffy of Springfield, will pitch for the Saints. The game will be called at three o'clock.

MANY ANSWER CALL AT ANTIOCH COLLEGE

Coach Earl Prugh's first call for football candidates at Antioch College, Wednesday, resulted in enough athletes turning out for the start of four teams.

These athletics will be drilled daily by Prugh until he is able to pick a varsity organization from the squad and go in right for the grand old grid game. New students at school have brought much new material and there is promise now for the first football team at Antioch that has been organized in a number of years.

Young Boardman, Wisconsin athlete who have turned out, and is helping form a nucleus for the squad and under careful tutelage an eleven should be formed to take on other teams in its class before the season is well under way.

FINED FOR SPEEDING.

WHOOPIING COUGH FATAL TO INFANT

John Willard Stafford, the nine months old child of Mr. and Mrs. James Stafford, of Wilberforce Station died at the parents' home, Thursday afternoon at four o'clock after an illness of several weeks of whooping cough.

The child was born, December 21. Besides the parents, two other children survive, Albert and Thelma. Services will be held at the home one o'clock Saturday. Standard time. Burial will be made at Woodland cemetery, this city.

READERS' DISCOVERIES

Mrs. A. B. H.: "When I boil plain potatoes in salted water, then drain off the water, to serve them, I fold a napkin and put it over the potatoes and then put the cover on tight. In this way, the potatoes do not get dry as they do without a napkin over them."

Reader Housekeeper: "I believe more housekeepers would like to know of the little fluted paraffine cups now on the market, which I buy and put into the 'wells' of my cupcake baking pans before pouring in the cake batter. By using these, one does not have to grease the pan; one never breaks the cup cakes in getting them out; and one saves having to wash a greasy pan after the baking. Small paper drinking cups may be used in the same way, cut down half-size."

Bride: "When I bake a berry pie I always put my meat pan under it, in the oven, so that if any of the berry juice bubbles over, it won't get all over the oven. It is so hard to clean an oven! And when I broil slices of ham or chops I always do the same; that is I put the meat pan under the dripping meat instead of the regular pan which comes for this purpose with every stove—and thereby save the nuisance of scouring a large dripping pan. If I broil only 1 chop, I use a pie pan under it to catch the grease."

Newly-Weds: "We have no chafing dish yet, but we serve all the delicate chafing-dish-dishes by cooking them in the top of our double boiler, over water. So many people think they can't have chafing dish dainties because they own no chafing dish. For a guest supper I make a Welch Rarebit, for instance, and put it on individual plates, on crackers, then bring these plates into the dining room."

M. L.: "Here is my husband's favorite tomato relish, which has a rather 'hot' taste: Tomato Relish: 13 ripe tomatoes skinned by blanching, then put through the food chopper; 3 red peppers, 1 small onion (chop these two vegetables small also); 2 cups granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon mace, 2 tablespoons ground cinnamon, 2 teaspoons allspice, 2 teaspoons ground cloves, 12 teaspoon mustard unprepared, 1 teaspoon celery seed, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 1/2 cups of vinegar. Simmer these ingredients together for 2 hours, then turn the mixture into hot sterilized jars and seal while hot."

Reader-Subscriber: "Just try my original recipe for Apple Chutney: Peel, core and chop 10 sour apples, discarding seeds. Seed and chop 2 green peppers and peel and chop 3 large onions. Put these all into the preserving kettle, add 1 cup seedless raisins, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 cup vinegar and 1 tablespoon mustard seed and let simmer 30 minutes. Then turn at once into hot, sterilized jars and seal while hot."

A Mother: "I kept washing and ironing my little girl's dresses constantly until I hit upon the idea of making her a 'Cow Girl's' costume (it is just like a cowboy's suit, only with skirts.) My husband then made her a small tent of canvas, for the back yard—and she plays happily almost all day, dressed in this little khaki dress! It has been such a help to me, for now I have only a few light dresses each week to wash for her."

THE NEW GENERATION

By Jane Phelps

FORRESTER'S PRESENCE ANNOYS JOAN. CHAPTER 33

"How do you do, Miss Joan?" Craig Forrester rose politely, and offered his hand. Joan gave him the tips of her fingers, then turned to her mother.

"I'm going in bathing, Mother," was all she said. Then left them. Margaret had seen the eagerness with which he had come to tell her of her first dip in the ocean she had seen the eagerness die away and give place to something very like resentment. She knew Joan had expected her to go up and superintend her first dressing in her new bathing suit; had perhaps expected her to go with her. She felt absolutely guilty, chagrined, unhappy.

Her manner toward Forrester reflected her emotions. She had suddenly acquired a prim dignity totally different from her simple unaffected friendliness of a few moments before. Puzzled, he sat down again, and tried to interest her. But in vain.

In a few stilted words Margaret excused herself and went in search of Joan.

Joan was in the room. Margaret could hear her moving about. She paused outside the door for a moment. She must compose herself, be ready to parry the child's questions perhaps.

"How are you getting on, dear?" she asked as finally she stood in the doorway.

"All right!" with a tug Joan pulled on a stocking.

"Can I help you?"

"No."

"Don't stay in long. You are not accustomed to the water yet and it may make you ill if you do so."

No answer.

"Here's your cap."

"Thank you."

"Would you like me to go down on the beach and watch you?"

"Perhaps—if you go alone."

"Do you like to be alone?" Margaret would not pretend to mis understand the allusion.

"That's different."

"I can't see any difference, dear."

It is lonely for me when I am sitting alone, just as it would be for you. It is a real kindness when anyone talks to me. Mr. Forrester was very nice, and so surprised to see me."

She had taken the "bull by the horns" now she waited.

"You mean he pretended he was surprised. I'll bet he knew all about it."

Joan gave her mother a look full of suspicion. Margaret knew as well as if she had spoken that she was thinking of the flowers Forrester had sent; of a letter she had one day found her reading.

"I think not, dear. There would be no possible reason for him to pretend. I felt rather flattered."

Joan looked at her mother curiously. This was a new attitude, this talking as if she were pleased at attracting attention. Joan did not quite understand it. And anything that Joan did not understand she meditated.

"Is he going to stay, Mother?" she asked after a moment.

"Mother" made Margaret wince as it invariably did.

"I didn't think to mention it, dear. And he said nothing about it."

Then: "I hope he does remain for a few days. I know no one, and it would be pleasant to have him to talk to."

Again that puzzled look crossed Joan's face. Once more her mother had said she wanted Craig Forrester to be where she was; wanted—as Joan figured it—to have folks talk about her, say she would get married and a lot of horrid things like that.

"I'm ready!"

The sharp young voice made the announcement.

"All right, dear, wait until I get a parasol." Margaret smiled as she turned to the closet. She had seen the puzzled expression on Joan's face and rightly interpreted it.

"I have got her guessing," she thought, almost childishly pleased that such was the case. "Now I'll wear my rose and gray dress to-night. She'll be wild with me but he said I look so—young in it."

"Come on, dear!" she said aloud. "Tomorrow I will go in with you."

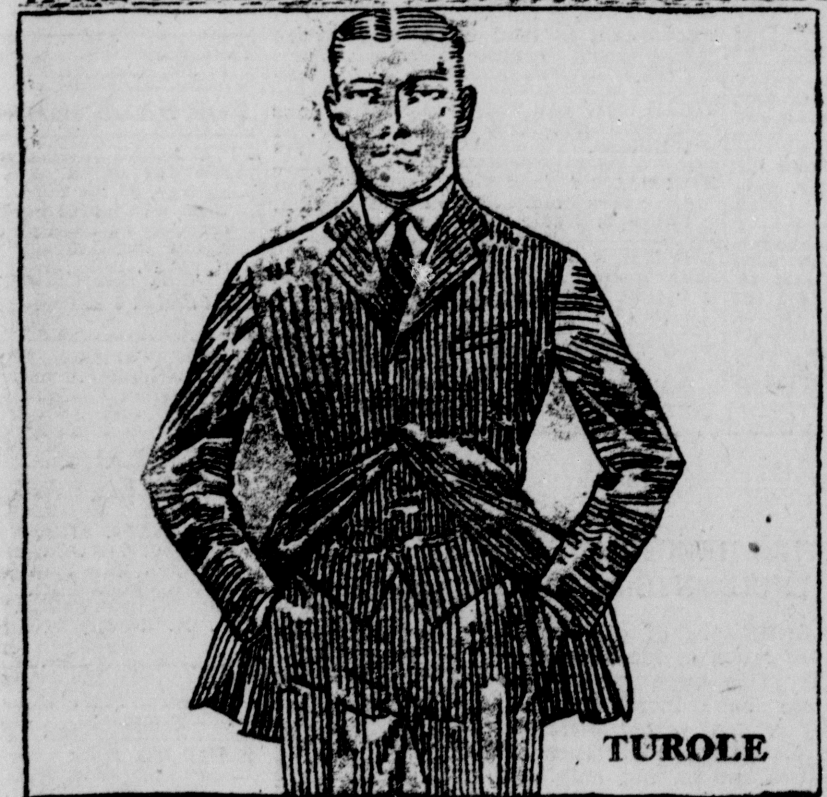

Tomorrow—Margaret Envis Joan Her Courage.

STRICKEN SUDDENLY WHILE DRIVING TEAM

Suffering a sudden stroke of apoplexy, William Daughters, 74, of Waynesville, died suddenly, Thursday afternoon while driving a team to the Waynesville canning factory. Mr. Daughters had taken a load of cobs from the mill, and was returning for a second load, when he was stricken, and died before aid could be reached.

Mr. Daughters was born in New Burlington, but had been a resident of Waynesville for the past 15 years. He is survived by his wife, who was before her marriage, Miss Fannie Cotrell, of Waynesville, and eight children, John, of Oklahoma; Earl, of Wyoming; Fred, of Centerville; Mrs. Edward Method, of Ridgeville; Mrs. Carl Sheets, of Dayton; Mrs. Glen Frinck, of Dayton, and Kate and Floyd at home. One sister, Mrs. Ella Quirk of this city, also survives, with twenty-one grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren. William Daughters, of Columbus, formerly of this city, is a nephew of the deceased. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Escape the "Stout" Class
An attractive figure is not a matter of size but of correct proportions. The stout women who are never spoken of as "stout" are those who give a little time and thought to proper corseting.

Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets give the wearer an appearance of slenderness. The exclusive Rengo Belt feature gives strength and support where the greatest strain falls—over the abdomen and hips. They have the reputation of being "the most economical reducing corsets ever devised."
